

Dan Boston & Monica Tencate Team-Up to Form Elite Health Care Practice

For Immediate Release

August 2, 2004

Contact:

Jerry Mullins: 202-261-4037

Washington, DC – Dan Boston, a health care policy expert, announced today that he will be joining Monica Tencate at Health Policy Source, Inc. (www.healthpolicysource.com) as a full partner, forming one of Washington D.C.'s top health care consulting practices. Boston and Tencate are both skilled in federal legislation, policy analysis and political strategy. The firm specializes in helping businesses and organizations achieve their health care objectives through effective policy, strategy and advocacy initiatives.

“I am very excited to be working with Dan. The unique expertise and experience he brings to the firm allows us to better serve our clients and help them achieve their goals,” said Tencate. She went on to say, “Health Policy Source, Inc. has always prided itself on high-level, personalized service by the firm’s principals. Dan and I see eye-to-eye on this business model, and bringing him on board will greatly enhance this core strength.”

“After only two-and-a-half years, Monica has built Health Policy Source, Inc. into one of the country’s leading health care practices. I believe that by joining her as a full partner we can obtain even higher levels of service and success for our clients. Combining the unique relationships Monica and I have across both sides of the aisle and in both Chambers will more effectively serve our lobbying efforts under this new partnership,” Boston commented.

Boston comes to Health Policy Source, Inc. after serving as the Senior Public Policy Advisor at Baker, Donelson, Bearman, Caldwell & Berkowitz where he founded the firm's Washington, D.C. Health Policy Practice. Prior to that he spent time working for the Federation of American Hospitals, and served many years in the House of Representatives, most recently as member of the Majority Staff on the Health Subcommittee of the House Committee on Energy & Commerce.

Health Policy Source, Inc. couples professional and technical expertise with innovative strategies in working with government, businesses and organizations to meet their health care objectives. They have a diverse client base that includes businesses leading the industry in biotechnology, disease management, medical innovation, hospital systems, physician group practice and post-acute care, as well as national trade organizations in a variety of disciplines. Health Policy Source maintains offices in Washington, DC and San Diego, CA.